

NSW Workers' Compensation Key Dates & Discounts

2020/2021 policy period

Unlike Victoria and Queensland, NSW does not have a common renewal date for Workers' Compensation policies; as such the available discounts are not related to a set date but are tied into the due date of the premium invoice. The size of the discount available is dependent on the size of the employer:

1. Small Employers* are entitled to a 5% discount if they pay their premium in full by the due date on the invoice
2. Employers (other than small employers) are entitled to a 3 % discount if they pay their premium in full by the due date on the invoice

To find out if premium funding will save you money contact Aegis Risk Management Services.

Kathy Li

Phone: (03) 9860 4228

Mobile: 0438 035 008

Email: kathy.li@aegisrms.com.au

* In NSW a small employer is a business with an average performance premium (total wages x industry rate) equal to or less than $30,000.